Sinhala Jana Kavi.Q: How to draw a circle when i click on it I am trying to draw an image of a circle and when i click on it to create a canvas and draw image of circle but its not working. var img = document.getElementById("a"); var div = document.getElementsByClassName("dv"); document.onclick = function(event) { var canvas = document.getElementById("canvas"); var context = canvas.getContext("2d"); context.save(); context.translate(50, 50); context.arc(0, 0, 10, 0, Math.PI * 2, false); context.fill(); context.restore(); context.beginPath(); }; A: There's nothing wrong with your code. The problem is that you set the src attribute of the tag, that you use as a click event handler, to the default, which is the browser (the same image, with a 1px x 1px transparent area added to it). You need to either use an tag that points to a suitable image, or add your image to the html. You can put your
